THE OMBUDSMAN OF POSTAL DIPLOMACY

Mr. Charles N. Reinsel, 120 Eighth Avenue, Clarion, Pennsylvania 16214

BIG BROTHER #69: THE POOREST SPORT IN POSTAL DIPLOMACY: CHARLES WELLS

10 AUGUST 1968: got 691 L.M.s

I shall never forget one time when Charles Wells forgot his move in the B.B.#1 game. I called and no one answered. Just a couple hours later I visited Wells' home for an over-the-board game at Cleveland. When reading the current Big Brother he claimed loudly that he mailed the postcard a couple of days before. During that conversation his wife, Jane, came out of the bedroom with the unmailed moves in her hand that she had discovered on top of the dresser.

Wells often uses the lowly postcard in spite of the fact he was told in person, in letters, & in B.B.#50 that Cleveland seldom ever postmarks postcards & is very slow in delivery. Usually he mailed on the day before a deadline which is tempting the fates anyway.

In L.M. #21 (6 Sept. '66) Wells states, "Only Graustark & Big Brother REALLY come out on time. Most of the others including (his) Lonely Mt., have frequent delays."

Charles Wells was losing both B.B.#1 & B.B.#4 anyway & now he is trying desperately to think of some way of having them not counted in the official Big Brother's & other rating systems. He will fail!

John Beardman printed the ORIGINAL BIG BROTHER rating scale in GRAUSTARK #57 (25 July 1965). Beardman declared, "It seems like a really good idea!"

In Graustark #60 (15 August 1965) in the "Diplomatic Touch" chess, Wells states, "Reinsel's postal Diplomacy game ratings (See Graustark #57 & 59) are an excellent idea. Lon Atkins & I were talking about such a system a few weeks ago! The thing about Reinsel's (Big Brother) system that I like so much is that it has some sort of meaning right away. If a player is fairly good his score will slowly increase over time. It's not good to have too fast an increase & I don't think that Reinsel's does. Reinsel's (postal rating) system (like the master-point system used in bridge) also takes into account experience. Reinsel's system is really sort of elegant!" says Charles Wells.

Chas. Wells continues, "There are two goals in Diplomacy: (1) To survive, and (2) To Win. (This in Diplomacy is unlike chess, where the only goal is to win.) To do the first is a minor accomplishment, and to do the second is a major accomplishment, and the Reinsel system takes this exactly into account."

In Lonely Mt. #7 (7 Jan. 1966) Chas. Wells printed the current Big Brother original & official Postal Diplomacy rating system.

In a letter (8 July 1966) Conrad von Metzke states, "I think yours was the first rating system. So far, it's the best in essence."

Another letter (19 July 1965) Gamesmaster & Editor (Postal) von Metzke says, "On your ratings, I think the modifications you mention bring the system very close to 'perfection'. I like your idea about confining the system to postal games."

Another letter states, "We of the IDF (International Diplomacy Federation), the original not Walker's phoney duplicate, proposal, committee, revision adopting an ideal system, largely based on yours."

In Brobdingnag #79-Page 2, Gamesmaster & Editor John McCallum stated, "Incidentally, if I had to choose a single Rating List to survive my vote would be for the Big Brother one, not for my own."

Clarion, Pa. (not Clarion, Iowa) is only 136 miles from Cleveland, Ohio and not the "350 miles" that sometime Math. teacher Wells insists.

Yes, Charles Wells I believe "RULES ARE MADE TO BE OBEYED!" and since you admit you don't you are the poorest sport in Diplomacy and must be a mighty (oh pity your students) poor Mathematics teacher...?!

I just spent an interesting weekend thruout Maryland an the D. of Columbia. I visited old friends George Detrow in Hagerstown and Bernie Wermers in Randallstown. Buddy Tretrick and his wonderful wife, Chris, acted as my ~~old~~ hosts. Buddy & I played Stalingrad. I was Germany and won! Buddy beat be at Bismarck twice! At least I beat Buddy both games we played on his pool table down stairs.

In the Diplomacy game; Bill Fitzpatrick-Turkey, Chris Tretrick-Italy, Dave Lebling ~~England~~-England were eliminated. Buddy Tretrick-Germany and Charles Reinsel-Austria each had eleven pieces when the game broke up. Dave Bischoff-Russia and Bob Reiter-France were still very much alive at the finish. Russia & Austria were allied against Germany & France. It was one of the best over the diplomacy games that this writer has ever played.

We hope the Maryland group will come up here for a rematch.

I paid a short visit to Don Miller on Sunday morning.

Ed Halle "I do certify that I'm me and not Monte."
Note: Monte Zelazny has not answered the question in B.B. #68!
I called him on the telephone this morning but received "the party does not answer" from the operator.

Note: I also tried to call Ed at his #904-372-2317 number but was told by the operator that the number was discontinued. When I asked her to call his old address 107 SE 8th. St. she said "there is nothing listed" under the name Halle at that address or in Gainesville, Fla.
Like I said in B.B. #68. "Now I think Monte was joking but I am not sure." So if Monte & Ed Halle are not the same person I congratulate Ed Halle for his fine victory in B.B.'s LUCKY GAME #7. Please let this be a lesson to other "children" who state in print* (especially) in their own lines, to the uncertainty it may cause. I will count this game by the various rating systems until informed otherwise.
